

Building North American Competitiveness

TRADE WORKS

27% of the world's GDP

with only 7% of the world's population

WE MAKE THINGS TOGETHER

On average,
Canadian goods sold to the U.S. contain

25% U.S. content

WE DO BUSINESS TOGETHER

Canadian companies have invested
$309 billion in the U.S.

Total foreign investment among Canada, the U.S. & Mexico is $662 billion

Martinrea

Helping North America out-compete the world

Martinrea International Inc. is a leading automotive parts supplier, headquartered in Vaughan, Ontario. North American integration has enabled the company to maintain 12 operations in the United States, throughout Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

In Mexico, there are an additional six operations. Martinrea's 38 plants form an internationally integrated supply chain across the United States, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Europe and China with 13,000 employees. The majority of the production network is based in North America.

Martinrea's extensive North American operations helped the company win a contract to produce the first hydro-formed engine cradle for General Motors. The engine cradle is produced at Martinrea's Brampton, Ontario facility, then shipped to North American GM assembly plants where it is inserted in a wide variety of vehicles.

MARTINREA MEANS JOBS

Martinrea employs over 13,000 people
worldwide

Martinrea's plants are experiencing record volumes and production. Many of the company's facilities, especially in Mexico and Canada, recently saw increases in both revenues and profits.

Martinrea has used its integrated North American supply chain to successfully launch products for a variety of customers around the world.

February 2015. This story of North American integration is based on publicly available information. Unless otherwise mentioned, all trade figures are in U.S. dollars.

